Bravida Fire & Security chooses Cybercom

Bravida Fire & Security has chosen Cybercom as its partner for development of the next generation of Bravida Integra.

Bravida Fire & Security's proprietary Bravida Integra system is an integrated security system for access controls, burglar alarms, fire alarms and CCTV. Bravida Integra is today a market leader in large and complex control systems and has customers in multiple locations in Sweden, the Nordic region and Europe. To date, more than 100,000 card readers, in systems from 1 to 5,000 units, have been installed, and new deliveries are made daily.

"We chose Cybercom for its valuable experience as a turnkey supplier of development, design and strategy. During a thoroughly conducted preliminary study it has understood our situation and presented an interesting and sustainable solution that will strengthen our competitiveness and also help us to reach new customer segments," say Rune Lindman, head of development, and Lars Ericson, head of products and systems at Bravida Fire & Security.

Together with Bravida Fire & Security, Cybercom has conducted a preliminary study and developed a strategy for the next generation of Bravida Integra, and has been chosen to implement the development project. The project will be conducted and managed from Cybercom's office in Malmö and is expected to run until the summer.

"We are very pleased with the confidence that Bravida Fire & Security is placing in us," says Henrik Benckert, Head of Region Cybercom Sweden South. "The cooperation between Cybercom and Bravida Fire & Security is entirely in line with our vision to assist our clients to succeed in the connected world."
