Exchange NoticeIT 01/09

IT – Saturday January 17, enhanced load tests will be run in the SAXESS production system

All day Saturday January 17, the SAXESS production system will not be accessible due to enhanced load testing.

By Sunday January 18, the SAXESS production environment will be restored to its usual state.

We continuously strive to meet market demands in terms of capacity and speed. One of our ongoing efforts in order to proactively address your needs is to stress test our production environment on a regular basis.

All other environments and systems will be available as normal Saturday January 17.
