

EETI de-listed from the AIM index of the London Stock Exchange

Following the new share issue in EETI in February 2009, Scribona has successively acquired shares and now owns approximately 94 percent of the company. The extraordinary extra general meeting of EETI on 29 June 2009 resolved to delist the company's shares. The final trading date was 7 July 2009.

EETI is reported as a subsidiary as of 1 July 2009, after having previously been reported as a short-term financial investment. Scribona's investment in the company currently amounts to SEK 118 million. According to EETI's most recently published accounts, the company had equity of EUR 55 million after completing the share issue in February 2009. A provision will be made in the consolidated financial statements for the portion of Scribona's equity share in EETI that exceeds Scribona's investment.
