Other terms of employment shall be as customary at comparable companies, e.g. as regards contributions to a pension fund, vacation, use of vehicle and notice period.

Explanatory notes with the Icelandair Group hf. Remuneration Policy

Act No. 89/2006 amended the Companies Act No. 2/1995 with the addition of Article 79(a). The Article was changed with Act No. 68/2010. The Article imposes the obligation on the Board of Directors of Icelandair Group to submit the Company's Remuneration Policy to the Annual General Meeting of the Company for approval or rejection. The Remuneration Policy must provide for the salaries and other payments to the Chief Executive Officer and other key managers of the Company, as well as its directors. The Act stipulates that the Remuneration Policy should disclose all principal aspects relating to managers and directors, as well as the policy of the Company with regard to contracts with managers and directors. Furthermore, the policy must reveal whether, and under what circumstances and within what framework, it is permitted to pay or remunerate managers and board members in addition to their basic salaries, e.g. in the form of transfers of shares, performance-linked payments, share certificates, call and put options, pre-emptive rights and other types of payments which are linked to shares in the Company, movements in the price of shares, loan agreements, pension agreements and severance agreements.

The amendment was made in line with Commission Recommendation No 2004/913/EC of 14 December 2004 fostering an appropriate regime for the remuneration of directors of listed companies.

The Board of Directors of Icelandair Group hf. has the objective, in submitting this Remuneration Policy now before the Annual General Meeting of the Company, of establishing for the Company a reasonable Remuneration Policy that will make it possible for the Company to attract directors of the highest quality and thereby secure the Company's international competitive position.
