

IT – INET Nordic – Changes to allowable Round Lot Size for Warrants, Certificates, Exchange Traded Funds, Investment Funds and AIFs

Based on requests by issuers, Nasdaq Nordic will allow Round Lot Size of certain instruments to be set to higher than one (1) going forward. Odd lots will continue not to be supported. Issuers of Warrants, Certificates, Exchange Traded Funds, Investment Funds and Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs) on Nasdaq Nordic will be able to list new instruments with Round Lot Size set to higher than one (1) as of June 18, 2018.

Round Lot higher than one (1) will only be allowed for new listings. Round Lot will remain equal to one (1) on all existing instruments. Order books' Round Lot Size is already today available via instrument reference data. Additionally, Lot Size is included in the listing notices sent out prior to first trading day of the instruments.

Details:

Instruments in INET with the exception of bonds have had Round Lot set to one (1). Going forward, instruments which have their first trading day on or after June 18, 2018 in the below market segments, will be allowed to have Round Lot set to higher than one (1). Order books' Round Lot Size will continue to be available via instrument reference data and listing notices.
