

PRESS RELEASE, September 22, 2010

Today we strengthened our power to create - PartnerTech has opened its new plant in Poland

Today at 11:30, Mayor Grzegorz Osyra of Myslowice, Poland officially opened PartnerTech's ultramodern new plant. PartnerTech CEO Leif Thorwaldsson and plant manager Jacek Maciejewski spoke to the many visitors about the facility and its importance for the company and the region. PartnerTech's well-defined concept when it comes to industrial structure, the customers' needs, as well as how to improve the competitiveness of its customers, provided the foresight and vision to proceed with a new plant even in the midst of a recession. The project was launched in November 2009 and production started up in May 2010.

Today's event and meeting also included a number of informative presentations about some of PartnerTech's fundamental priorities – efficient production systems for sheet metal processing, systems integration and quality. All visitors took a guided tour of the plant.
