IT Notice 162/10IT - Updated Technical Price List available on Member Extranet

From 1st of December 2010, NASDAQ OMX will change the price model for access services (OMnet API and FIX) for the Nordic derivatives market. Currently, access services are charged per server access. In the new price model, the price will instead be based on number of registered users in the production and external test systems 1 and 3.

For further details please see section "Genium INET – For Derivatives Trading and Clearing" in the Technical Price List available on the Member Extranet.
