Cybercom signs international contract worth SEK 60 million

Cybercom signed a contract with an international customer for two large telecom projects. The contract covers 2009, and has an option for extension. The initial order value is about SEK 60 million.

"Starting 2009 with such a prestigious deal is very inspiring," says Patrik Boman, president and CEO of the Cybercom Group. "We won this order over international competitors and on a tough market. This is a crucial customer showing major confidence in us by allowing us to take responsibility for business-critical parts of its operation."
