

TORM cancels one MR newbuilding

TORM has entered into an agreement to cancel one MR product tanker newbuilding, which was scheduled for delivery in March 2013. The parties have agreed not to disclose the terms.

"TORM has cancelled an MR newbuilding as part of the Company's overall plan to preserve cash and delever the balance sheet. With this agreement TORM has remaining instalments on the newbuilding program of USD 126 million," says Chief Financial Officer Roland M. Andersen.

The effects of the transaction will be recognized in the financial statements in the fourth quarter of 2011 and lead to a P&L loss of approx. USD 13 million. It does not have any short-term cash impact. As a consequence, TORM revises its forecast for the full year of 2011 from an expected loss before tax of USD 175-195 million to an expected loss before tax of approx. USD 190-210 million.

Following the cancellation, TORM has three product tankers and two dry bulk vessels on order and an owned fleet consisting of 65.5 product tankers and two dry bulk vessels.

Safe Harbor statements as to the future

Matters discussed in this release may constitute forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements reflect our current views with respect to future events and financial performance and may include statements concerning plans, objectives, goals, strategies, future events or performance, and underlying assumptions and statements other than statements of historical facts. The forward-looking statements in this release are based upon various assumptions, many of which are based, in turn, upon further assumptions, including without limitation, management's examination of historical operating trends, data contained in our records and other data available from third parties. Although TORM believes that these assumptions were reasonable when made, because these assumptions are inherently subject to significant uncertainties and contingencies which are difficult or impossible to predict and are beyond our control, TORM cannot guarantee that it will achieve or accomplish these expectations, beliefs or projections.

Important factors that, in our view, could cause actual results to differ materially from those discussed in the forward-looking statements include the strength of the world economy and currencies, changes in charter hire rates and vessel values, changes in demand for "tonne miles" of oil carried by oil tankers, the effect of changes in OPEC's petroleum production levels and worldwide oil consumption and storage, changes in demand that may affect attitudes of time charterers to scheduled and unscheduled dry-docking, changes in TORM's operating expenses, including bunker prices, dry-docking and insurance costs, changes in the regulation of shipping operations, including requirements for double hull tankers or actions taken by regulatory authorities, potential liability from pending or future litigation, domestic and international political conditions, potential disruption of shipping routes due to accidents and political events or acts by terrorists.

Risks and uncertainties are further described in reports filed by TORM with the US Securities and Exchange Commission, including the TORM Annual Report on Form 20-F and its reports on Form 6-K.

Forward-looking statements are based on management's current evaluation, and TORM is only under an obligation to update the extent required by law.
