Company release No. 16/2008

Nine-month interim report (Q3) 2008 (unaudited)

Financial performance in the nine months ended September 30, 2008

- Revenue for Q3 showed 16% organic growth. Accumulated organic growth in vaccine sales for the first nine months of the year was 12%.
- Revenue for the first nine months was DKK 1,308 million (1,209).
- The gross margin continued to improve and rose to 70% (69).
- Operating profit (EBIT) for the first nine months of the year was DKK 78 million (207*).
- Profit before tax (EBT) for the period was DKK 106 million (218*).

*) Including a milestone payment from Schering-Plough in 2007 of DKK 199 million

Highlights of the period

ALK recently announced breakthrough and very favourable clinical results from a long-term study of GRAZAX[®] demonstrating a lasting disease modifying effect of the treatment. The clinical study documents that the effect of the tablet persists following completion of the recommended three-year treatment regimen. The results represent a milestone in the history of ALK and concurrently put a sound foundation under the company's long-term strategic goal of expanding the use of allergy vaccination.

These recent research results, the satisfactory financial results and the strong financial position without any debt put ALK in a strong position to meet its long-term strategic ambitions and react to the effects of the expected global economic downturn.

Forecast of earnings for 2008 unchanged

ALK's forecast of EBIT for the full year is unchanged and can now be specified at DKK 110-140 million against the previous forecast of DKK 100-150 million. As a result of the recent fluctuations in exchange rates, EBT is now forecast at DKK 130-160 million against the previous forecast of DKK 110-160 million. Organic growth in vaccine sales is expected to be 12-15%, which is in line with ALK's long-term growth ambitions. Partly due to the exchange rate fluctuations, ALK now expects revenue to be slightly lower than previously forecast.

INCOME STATEMENT

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Revenue for Q3 showed satisfactory organic growth of 16% to DKK 437 million (386). This brought organic growth in revenue for the nine months to 11% to DKK 1,308 million (1,209). The effect of exchange rates was negative by three percentage points.

The rate of organic growth in the core business, sales of allergy vaccines, was 14% in Q3 compared to 6% in Q1 and 19% in Q2. Thus, the sales growth in ALK's core business continued in the latest quarter. The rate of organic growth for vaccine sales in the first nine months of the year was 12%.

Sales of injection-based allergy vaccines (SCIT) in the first nine months of 2008 increased to DKK 611 million (581), and the rate of organic growth was 7%. Sales of injection-based vaccines were in line with expectations and accounted for 47% (48) of total revenue.

Sales of sublingual vaccines (SLIT) showed organic growth of 20% to DKK 443 million (372). Sales of GRAZAX[®] accounted for DKK 63 million (30) of that amount. It was in particular sales of drop-based SLIT products in the Netherlands, France and Spain and sales of GRAZAX[®] which contributed to the growth. SLIT products continued to account for a growing share of sales at 34% (31) of consolidated revenue.

Sales of other products showed organic growth of 5% to DKK 254 million (256). This was in particular affected by favourable developments in the sale of adrenaline products. Moreover, sales continued to be adversely affected by the discontinuation of certain non-strategic products in the product range and the closure of the In Vitro Diagnostics business in 2006/07.

Net of the adverse impact from exchange rates, sales showed satisfactory growth in all geographic regions.

In the Northern European Region, sales increased by 22% organic growth to DKK 315 million (274). Sales growth especially in the United Kingdom and Scandinavia contributed to the overall growth.

Sales in Central Europe increased by 9% to DKK 515 million (474) as a result of the increase in sales of GRAZAX[®] and injection-based vaccines. In Germany, the authorities have changed the mandatory rebate system which has been imposed on all prescription drugs for a number of years. The change has had a limited favourable impact on ALK's sales in the Central European Region.

The growth in the Southern European Region continued and sales revenue showed organic growth of 11% to DKK 351 million (316). Sales of drop-based SLIT products in Southern Europe showed organic growth of 19%.

Sales in other markets was DKK 127 million (145), equivalent to organic growth at the rate of minus 1%. Sales in other markets were affected by discontinued products (In Vitro Diagnostics). Cost of sales amounted to DKK 386 million (379), resulting in an increase in gross profit by 11% to DKK 922 million (830). The gross margin continued its positive trend and rose to 70% (69), which was due to a better product mix and production efficiencies. However, the sharp increase in the exchange rate of the US dollar towards the end of Q3 had an adverse impact on the gross margin.

Research and development expenses for the period totalled DKK 246 million (234), equivalent to 19% of revenue for the period, and primarily related to the development of the tablet-based vaccine against house dust mite allergy and continuing clinical documentation of GRAZAX[®]. Sales, marketing and administrative expenses were DKK 623 million (594). Recent years' sharp increases in capacity costs are thus beginning to fade, and ALK expects this trend to continue in the years to come.

EBIT was a profit of DKK 78 million (207), equivalent to an EBIT margin of 6%. This included net operating income of DKK 28 million from the company's US partner Schering-Plough based on pharmaceutical development activities relating to the new tablet-based vaccine against ragweed allergy. The comparative figure for 2007 also includes net operating income from Schering-Plough of DKK 199 million. Disregarding these extraordinary items, the underlying operating profit showed satisfactory growth and was in line with ALK's long-term ambitions.

Net financials was income of DKK 28 million (11) and was to a significant extent favourably affected by the rising exchange rate of the US dollar towards the end of Q3.

Income tax for the period amounted to DKK 43 million (91). The effective tax rate for the full year is still expected to be approximately 41% (40).

Profit for the period was DKK 63 million (164). Profit in 2007 included extraordinary income of DKK 37 million from the final adjustments of the consideration in connection with the divestment of the ingredients business, Chr. Hansen.

The cash flow from operating activities was an inflow of DKK 79 million (161), which was affected in particular by changes in working capital. The cash flow from investing activities was an outflow of DKK 250 million (an outflow of 92) which related to planned investments in production facilities and ongoing maintenance. The free cash flow for the period was an outflow of DKK 171 million (an inflow of 69). At the end of the quarter, cash totalled DKK 525 million (938) and was especially affected by the payment of DKK 330 million of dividends in connection with the annual general meeting in April.

Outlook for the financial year 2008

Organic growth in vaccine sales is expected to be 12-15%, which is in line with ALK's long-term growth ambitions. Partly due to the exchange rate fluctuations, ALK now expects revenue to be slightly lower than previously forecast. ALK has made an adjustment of the growth in capacity costs, and ALK's forecast of EBIT for the full year is unchanged and can now be specified at DKK 110-140 million against the previous forecast of DKK 100-150 million. As a result of the recent fluctuations in exchange rates, EBT is now forecast at DKK 130-160 million against the previous forecast of DKK 110-160 million.

OPERATING REVIEW

Breakthrough GRAZAX[®] results

In October, ALK reported breakthrough results for tablet-based allergy vaccination. The main results from the long-term study (GT-08) of GRAZAX[®] document that the effect of the tablet-based vaccine persists following completion of the recommended three-year treatment regimen. Furthermore, blood samples from patients show a persistent, positive effect on the immune system indicating a lasting tolerance to grass pollen.

In the follow-up year, hay fever symptoms were reduced by 31%, while the use of symptomrelieving medication was reduced by 52%. The reduction of symptoms and use of medication was measured as median values relative to a control group. All patients in the study had unrestricted access to symptom-relieving medication. The results are statistically significant.

The results represent a crucial milestone for ALK and confirm that GRAZAX[®] is a fully valid allergy vaccine which, as opposed to symptom-relieving medication, provides a persistent clinical effect after the treatment is completed.

Based on these results, allergy vaccination using GRAZAX[®] can now be considered a valid clinical alternative to injection-based vaccines, and in the future, a choice between different types of treatment should solely be based on the individual preferences of physicians and patients.

Results from a clinical study of GRAZAX[®] for the treatment of children and adolescents have demonstrated good effect that is comparable to the documented effect in adult patients. Based on these results, ALK filed an application with the European regulatory authorities in the spring of 2008 with a view to expanding the marketing approval for GRAZAX[®] to include this important patient group.

GRAZAX[®] reimbursement

The Norwegian health authorities have announced that GRAZAX[®] will be released for general public reimbursement as from November 1, 2008. The authorities in Norway recommended GRAZAX[®] for general reimbursement already in 2007. Patients with grass allergy are now eligible for national reimbursement in Sweden, Norway, Finland, Germany, the Netherlands, Ireland, Austria, Switzerland and Greece, and for regional reimbursement in Italy and the United Kingdom.

ALK's capital investments are progressing according to plan

The construction of a new production unit for raw materials in Idaho in the USA and a new production line for tablet production in Swindon, UK, is progressing according to plan. It is expected that the construction of the raw materials unit will be completed in 2009, and the new tablet line is expected to be ready for production in 2010. Moreover, a new building is being constructed in Hørsholm, Denmark, so that all Danish ALK staff can relocate to the SCION DTU science park some time in 2009.

Limited effect of economic downturn

Overall, the current global economic downturn is expected to have limited consequences for ALK. The company has a sound, liquid equity base, insignificant liabilities and is generating steady and growing profits from operations. Thus, ALK's current investments can be financed by internally generated funds. Moreover, the pharmaceutical industry as a whole is relatively independent of cyclical economic fluctuations.

Risk factors

This interim report contains forward-looking statements, including forecasts of future revenue and operating profit as well as expected businessrelated events. Such statements are subject to risks and uncertainties as various factors, some of which are beyond the control of the ALK Group, may cause actual results and performance to differ materially from the forecasts made in this interim report. Without being exhaustive, such factors include, among others, general economic and business conditions, including legal issues, uncertainty relating to pricing, reimbursement rules and market penetration for GRAZAX[®], fluctuations in currencies and demand, changes in competitive factors and reliance on suppliers, but also factors such as side effects from the use of the company's existing and future products since allergy vaccination may be associated with allergic reactions of differing extent, duration and severity. Moreover, ALK cannot rule out that a general economic downturn could have an adverse impact on the use of allergy vaccines.

This interim report has been translated from Danish into English. However, the Danish text is the governing text for all purposes, and if there is any discrepancy, the Danish wording is applicable.
