

About Lars Wollung

Education

- |             |   |
|-------------|---|
| 1982 – 1986 | Royal Institute of Technology (KTH)Master of Science, specialising in Computer Systems and Telecommunication                           |
| 1981 – 1986 | Stockholm School of Economics &amp; Business AdministrationMaster of Science, specialising in Financial Analysis and Business Strategy |
| 1983        | New York UniversitySecond year MBA courses in Finance and Business Strategy  |

Experience

- |                |  |
|----------------|--|
| 2001/07 -      | Acando ABPresident and CEO of a management and IT consultant company noted on the Swedish stock exchange, turnover SEK 1.5 billion, 1100 employees, with operations in Sweden, Germany, UK, Norway, Denmark and Finland.  |
| 1999 – 2001/07 | Vice President of Acando, responsible for establishing a management consultant division.   |
| 1995 – 1999    | Operative Management PartnersOwn consultant firm, focusing on strategy and profit improvement programs.   |
| 1987 – 1995    | McKinsey &amp; CompanyManagement consultant, responsible for projects in Scandinavia, Australia, France, Italy, Germany and the U. K, in the following industries: consumer goods, manufacturing, steel, retail, transportation, telecommunication and insurance. |
-