Acando celebrates yet another award as number 1 Microsoft Dynamics Partner in Sweden

Microsoft Honors Acando yet again for outstanding customer commitment and sales achievement, with a recent celebration of impressive global performance. In effect Acando is also the number one partner in the same arena in the Swedish market.

Acando has recently been named the 2008 Microsoft Dynamics President's Club and member of the Inner Circle, where only 1 % of 10.000 partners have qualified world-wide.

The prize for best Microsoft Dynamics Partner in Sweden is just as impressive, where Acando is number 1 of 100 partners in total nationally. This is due to constant dedication to delivering solutions that meet their customers' unique needs, active pursuit of product and technological advancement.

"Acando has made a goal-oriented commitment to Microsoft Dynamics as a strategic part of their work with our whole platform. This has paid off during our last fiscal year, resulting in several strategic contracts within ERP as well as in the CRM area, which has rendered Acando membership among our most successful Dynamics Partners world-wide. In addition to this we have established several vertical collaborations, among them in the sector for Professional Services, which we know will generate a foundation for our continued success", says Lennart Gren, Sales Manager Microsoft Business Solutions, Microsoft.

"It is fantastic to get recognition of our true passion for improvements, where we always strive to help our customers to get full return on their system investments. We are proud to continue this success with Microsoft and our customers, says Lars Wollung, CEO, Acando.

"We continue to welcome applications from Microsoft Dynamics AX & Microsoft Dynamics CRM consultants and are in urgent need to recruit more talent. Apply here: www.acando.se, says Mattias Englund, Business Area Manager Microsoft Dynamics, Acando.
