IBS delivers powerful automotive software solution to Rolf Group

The Rolf Group, the leading Russian car distributor/importer and retailer has selected IBS Automotive Software to increase the efficiency, productivity and profitability of the division "We Love Parts", responsible for distribution of spare parts and accessories. IBS Automotive Software will manage the forecasting, inventory management and handling of spare parts and integrate to dealers and external buyers in Russia. The new software system will have some 300 users. The total order value is approximately SEK 23 m (EUR 2,380 m).

The Rolf Group is one of Russia's leading automotive businesses and is the largest importer and retailer of foreign-made cars in Russia. With 16 years of successful operations and expected 2007 revenues approaching $4 billion, the Group is one of the most profitable in the automotive sector worldwide.

Dmitry Soldatkin Director at Rolf Group, comments:

"We see our long-term future in making our clients and suppliers happy. We put money in IBS software because we know that these investments will increase our clients' satisfaction and reduce costs throughout the whole supply chain. Both planning and ordering processes will become more effective and also our suppliers will gain advantages of IBS system. This software solution is one of the basic components on the way to our strong leadership on the spare parts market."

Simon Shorthose, Vice President Sales IBS Europe, comments:

"This deal shows the strength of IBS' industry specific solutions for major automotive companies like Rolf. We are very proud to add Rolf as one of our customers as it is one of Russia's most successful companies, as well as being one of the fastest growing car importers/retailers in the world. IBS has provided ERP software solutions dedicated to automotive spare parts distribution to vehicle importers, distributors and suppliers across the globe. We look forward to providing further support to Rolf as the company goes through its continued growth in Russia and around the world."
