New framework agreement with Danish Health and Medicines Authority

FormPipe Software's subsidiary Traen have been selected along with 4 other suppliers by The Danish Health and Medicines Authority in a framework agreement for IT Consultancy services in competition with 29 other vendors. The framework agreement is valid for 2 years with the possibility of 2 years extension and has a total value between DKK 80 to 160 million.

"This is a very important agreement since the Danish Health and Medicines Authority already is an existing customer and this agreement facilitates the possibilities for increased commitment in the future. The agreement strengthens the already strong demand for our specialist skills in the public sector, and looking forward, we can conclude that our customers in the Danish public sector are still in great need for digitalization of their operations. Framework agreements are important for us since they secure a steady inflow of opportunities to our business," explains Christian Sundin, CEO of FormPipe Software.

The Framework Agreement includes:
- Maintenance, support and further development of the existing system portfolio
- Adaptation of systems based on new legal requirements
- Development of new systems
- Tasks related to Health IT and Pharmaceutical Informatics.

Traen is today a supplier of the Portal DKMAnet, an access-controlled extranet, which offers national and international companies in the pharmaceutical industry easy and secure access to sending and receiving information in a number of areas under the Danish Medicines Agency.
