

Supreme Environmental Court has set a date for court proceedings for the mine- and processing project at Fäboliden to May 2008

The Supreme Environmental Court has set a date for the court proceedings for Lapland Goldminers AB's mine- and processing project at Fäboliden in the municipality of Lycksele in Västerbotten, to May 27-28, with May 29 as an extra day.

The ruling of the Environmental Court, which was made public on Friday December 21, 2007, was appealed to the Miljööverdomstolen (Supreme Environmental Court). Three land owners and Naturvårdsverket (Swedish Environmental Protection Agency) appealed the ruling of the court.

We consider it very positive that the Supreme Environmental Court has set a date for court proceedings already this spring, which shows that they handle the case fast and with efficiency and priority, says Karl-Åke Johansson, CEO.

About the Company

Lapland Goldminers AB is an exploration company with the goal of becoming a producing mining company. The company is listed on the market place "First North" under the name GOLD, with Mangold Fondkommission AB as the Certified Adviser, as well as the OTC list of the Oslo exchange. Lapland Goldminers has secured a number of gold deposits along the so-called Gulmlinjen ("The Gold Line") in Västerbotten. The Company's strategy is to develop a profitable, producing gold company with a centrally located processing plant in Fäboliden, Sweden, and in the Haveri area in Finland, which is supported by ore from one or several mines either through the Company's own exploration or alternatively through acquisitions.

The company is a member of SveMin, the trade association for mines, minerals and metal producers in Sweden (formerly called the Swedish Mining Association) and follows SveMin's reporting rules for public mining and exploration companies.
