Auriant Mining announces restructuring of shareholder debt

Auriant Mining AB has restructured the terms of the shareholder loan with Golden Impala, an entity affiliated to and controlled by Mr. Preston Haskell (Auriant Mining's main shareholder), on the following terms. Effective 30 May 2014 the shareholder debt, which stood at US$ 40,987,923 (including accrued interest), and was originally due in June 2014, will have its maturity extended to 31 December 2018. Starting from May 2014 the interest rate is reduced to 10% per annum. The interest will be accrued and paid out at maturity.

Commenting on the debt restructuring Denis Alexandrov, CEO of Auriant Mining, said "I am very glad to report that we have reached an agreement with our main shareholder regarding restructuring of the shareholder debt. The interest on the debt has been almost halved, and the term extended for 4 years. This, together with our new credit facility from Promsvyazbank, has improved the company's debt profile and ensures that the Company has sufficient financing going forward. We are lucky to continue having such a supportive shareholder who is committed to Auriant Mining's development."
