NORDIC SURVEILLANCE QUARTERLY REPORT

JULY - SEPTEMBER 2014

The exchange rules as well as the methodology of the surveillance are in substance harmonized between the Nasdaq exchanges in the Nordic countries. Due to national regulations however, there might be differences. For the reader to be able to distinguish the differences, some of the articles will be marked with flags to highlight this circumstance. "The Exchange" refers to Nasdaq as relevant in each local jurisdiction.

Reminder: T+2 settlement from October 6, 2014

The Nasdaq exchanges in Copenhagen, Helsinki, Iceland and Stockholm are implementing two-day standard settlement (T+2) to securities admitted to trading on the respective exchanges and First North markets. The T+2 standard settlement cycle will take effect as of October 6, 2014.

As a result of the transition from current T+3 to T+2 standard settlement, Wednesday October 8, 2014 will be the settlement date for trades executed on both Friday October 3, 2014 and Monday October 6, 2014. Trades executed on the Icelandic fixed-income market on October 3, 2014 will be settled on October 6, 2014 as the market is transitioning from T+1.

In addition to securities, NASDAQ OMX Derivatives Markets is also adopting the T+2 settlement cycle for physical deliveries resulting from expiries of derivatives with equities and Danish fixed income as underlying instrument. The Swedish fixed income derivatives remain in current T+4 settlement on expiry.

The introduction of the T+2 settlement cycle is in line with the new settlement requirements in the EU (Regulation on improving securities settlement in the EU and on central securities depositories (CSDs) and amending Directive 98/26/EC (CSDR)), which aim to harmonize securities settlement cycles within EU. The CSDR settlement requirements determine that trades executed on regulated markets or MTFs in transferable securities shall be settled no later than on the second business day after the trade takes place.

The introduction of the T+2 settlement cycle will be reflected in the relevant rules and regulations of the Nasdaq exchanges (including NASDAQ OMX Member Rules, Buy-in Procedure and Guideline, Reporting Guideline, The Rules and Regulations of NASDAQ OMX Derivatives Markets, NASDAQ OMX Helsinki Rules of the Exchange): these changes have been notified to the market and the updated versions of the relevant documents will be available under NASDAQ OMX Nordic Rules and Regulations section at the Nasdaq website.

All issuers and other initiators of corporate actions are requested to avoid any corporate action events during the period above. Nasdaq also encourages issuers to carefully consider this change when settling and communicating schedules for dividends, coupons and corporate actions.

Trading Surveillance

Referrals on suspected market abuse

14 cases have been reported to the Swedish FSA during the first quarter, in accordance with the Exchange's obligation to refer matters of suspected market abuse. 11 of these cases concerned suspected illegal insider trading and three cases concerned suspected market manipulation.

Criticism towards members

Three members on Nasdaq Stockholm were criticized in July. The background was a situation where the members entered large closing orders in a share and the orders caused a large price movement. The Exchange concluded that the price movement could have been limited if a larger volume of the trading would have taken place during the trading day and not concentrated to the closing call.

Equity cancellations change of procedure

As of Monday, October 6, 2014 the Exchange will change the procedures for communication with trading participants in connection to matters regarding trade cancellations for the equity market.

All communication on trading incidents is currently conducted by telephone. In order to reduce the time spent on investigating and resolving incidents and to be able to quicker confirm the outcome of such incidents to the participants involved, we will adopt procedures where all communication will be handled by e-mail.

This new procedure will apply to all trading incidents in equities and equity related instruments such as ETFs, warrants and certificates. In the case of an occurred incident that may result in trade cancellations, a general notice will be sent to the participants involved. In the case of incidents of a greater magnitude with wide potential implications, e.g. in index equities, the notice might be sent to all trading participants, stating that the Exchange has identified an incident and indicating which trades that are under investigation. A second notice will later be sent to the same recipients as the first and will include the Exchange's decision and final outcome of the investigation. A third notice will be sent to each participant involved in the incident and will include the final outcome of the participant's specific trades.

If a member firm has a request for cancellation an e-mail should be sent to TS.CANCELLATION@NASDAQ.COM

Save the date: Stockholm Market Surveillance Forum 2015

What is the role of market surveillance in the maintenance of confidence in the market? How do we monitor the market? Meet the Issuer Surveillance at Nasdaq Stockholm that will give you answers to the questions and also will discuss the importance of transparency and clear rules. Issuer Surveillance also shares its observations during 2014 and current practice. Preliminary date for Stockholm Market Surveillance 2015 is January 27.

HELSINKI

A complete description of disciplinary proceedings and market interventions conducted by the surveillance department in Helsinki is available in the Appendix.

Three cases of suspected misuse on insider information were handed over to the Finnish FSA.

Disciplinary Decision – Rautaruukki Corporation

The Disciplinary Committee of Nasdaq Helsinki has imposed a public warning and a fine of EUR 100,000 to Rautaruukki Corporation due to the breach of the Rules of the Stock Exchange. In August and September 2013 the company did not provide the Market Surveillance of the Exchange the necessary information required by the Rules. Furthermore, the company breached the obligation to maintain adequate administrative procedures required by the Rules.

Rautaruukki Corporation disclosed a company announcement on January 22, 2014, stating “SSAB and Rautaruukki to combine through SSAB making a recommended share exchange offer to Rautaruukki’s shareholders”. Rautaruukki had been negotiating to combine the steel businesses with SSAB already since November 2011. Rautaruukki had established a project-specific insider register at that time. After several phases, the negotiations led into the disclosure of the plan in January 2014 to combine the two companies through a public share exchange offer.

There were exceptional patterns in the trading of Rautaruukki’s share in August and September 2013. The price and the trading volumes of the company’s share rose remarkably several times. The Market Surveillance of the Exchange contacted the company multiple times during August and September 2013 and requested for information of possible reasons for the unusual price movements of the company share. All questions regarding if the company had possible ongoing significant projects or undisclosed price sensitive information were denied by the key contact persons.

According to Rule 8.1.1 (as of July 1, 2013, currently Rule 9.1.1), the Exchange is required to provide sufficient and reliable surveillance in the market to avoid and detect any malpractice activities and in order to promote public trust. According to Rule 8.1.2. (as of July 1, 2013, currently Rule 9.1.2), the responsibility of the listed company is to cooperate and provide any information required by the Market Surveillance of the Exchange. A breach to comply may hinder proper market surveillance and affect possible investigations.

The Disciplinary Committee stated that Rautaruukki Corporation, as a listed company, is responsible to cooperate with the Exchange. The administration is not organized in an adequate manner if a person nominated to be a contact person for the Exchange is not aware of the company’s current specific projects. Furthermore, to comply with the requirement of the adequate administration, it is necessary that the role of the Exchange as a supervisor of the trading is clear to the listed company.

In its resolution, the Disciplinary Committee stated that Rautaruukkii Corporation has breached Rule 8.1.2 (as of July 1, 2013) and 2.2.4.3 regarding its obligation to provide information to the Exchange for surveillance purposes as well as the related obligation to maintain adequate administrative procedures. Taking into consideration the size of the transaction and the effects on the surveillance of the market, the breach was considered to be serious. Based on Rule 8.2.3 (currently Rule 9.2.3), the Disciplinary Committee imposed a warning and a fine of EUR 100,000 to Rautaruukki Corporation.

Nordic Surveillance market survey 2014

In order to ensure the quality of Nordic Surveillance operations and to identify potential areas of improvements, a web survey among key stakeholders was performed in late 2013. A follow up of the survey will be performed among key stakeholders in the beginning of December. The Exchange will use the result and the comments to further improve our services towards members and issuers. Your participation and contribution will be much appreciated.

The survey will be distributed by email. If you haven't received a personal invitation to the survey by December 15 you may send a request to participate to:
