

Ingenico Group and TMTFactory transform consumers' purchasing experience at the FC Barcelona Megastore

Deploying interactive self-service solutions combining purchase and payment

Ingenico Group (Euronext: FR0000125346 - ING), the global leader in seamless payment, has partnered with TMTFactory, a leading provider of multimedia content, to deploy a pioneering project in Europe, the Digital Locker (TM), an innovative POS which is already deployed in the FC Barcelona official megastore, at Barcelona's Camp Nou stadium.

Ingenico Group and TMTFactory have jointly deployed interactive points of sale where consumers can easily choose their equipment, personalize it, and check-out securely.

The "Digital Locker"TM, a solution devised by TMTFactory, combines a high end interactive consumer face application with an integrated payment solution. This is the first completely independent and autonomous solution in the retail sector in Spain, integrating touch screens with LED technology, unattended payment solution, printer and RFID system. The end-to-end Ingenico payment solution combining both unattended smart terminals and payment gateway highly contributes to adding value to consumers' interactive experience, making the purchasing experience seamless: simple, fast, and secure.

"This initiative perfectly illustrates Ingenico Group's ability to be the trusted partner of innovative companies as TMTFactory developing new products and approaches to enhance consumer experience," explains José Luis Arias, Managing Director of Ingenico Iberia. "We are very proud that our seamless payment solutions support this new project, turning the FC Barcelona Megastore into one of the most advanced sports shop in Europe".

This partnership with TMTFactory, based on Ingenico Group's iSelf series, is part of a broader set of other initiatives currently being deployed in Spain.
