CFO TO LEAVE RAYSEARCH

RaySearch Laboratories AB (publ.) announces that Anders Martin-Löf, Chief Financial Officer of RaySearch, will leave the company in April to take up the CFO post at another company. Anders will retain his responsibilities as CFO until he leaves the company. A search for Anders' successor is under way.

“Anders joined RaySearch in 2007 and has been our CFO since 2009. During that period RaySearch has been transformed strategically as we have fundamentally shifted business model, gone through a rapid international expansion and increased our revenues several hundred per cent. Anders has played an important role in this process and has contributed significantly to our success and to ensure a strong position going forward. I would like to thank him for all these years and wish him all the best for the future”, says Johan Löf, CEO of RaySearch.

About RaySearch
