LIFCO ACQUIRES AUGER TORQUE GROUP

Lifco has signed an agreement to acquire Auger Torque, a leading global manufacturer of earth drills and other attachments for cranes and excavators.

In 2014, Auger Torque reported net sales of approximately 10 million GBP. Auger Torque will be consolidated in Kinshofer, a part of the business area Demolition & Tools. The acquisition will not have any significant effect on Lifco's earnings per share in current financial year.

With the acquisition, Kinshofer adds a new product segment and will get access to an important distribution channel in especially UK, Australia, USA and China.

Auger Torque is a British family business, founded in 1998. The company has customers in more than 70 countries and has 107 employees. Auger Torque's major customer group is small and mid-size contracting businesses. The largest manufacturing sites are based in UK, China and Australia.
