

ANOTO TO APPEAR AT ISE 2015

Lund, Sweden – 6 February 2015: Anoto will be making its appearance at the 9th annual Integrated Systems Europe Conference (ISE 2015) at the Amsterdam RAI to showcase a variety of products that are Anoto Live Surface™ enabled.

“Based on the same concept as for smaller displays we intend to combine the Anoto Live Surface™ dot film with touch technologies to address a fast growing market for large wall mounted interactive displays for corporate meeting rooms ” says Anoto CEO, Stein Revelsby. “As soon as more 4K and 5K large (42”-85”) size displays become available in the market Anoto’s technology can be combined with all leading touch technologies such as capacitive or I/R-optical frames, to provide a richer interactive experience with high precision pen input.”

Anoto’s booth will be open for visitors all three days, February 10-12th, 2015, during that time visitors can come and test out the unique large-scale technology Anoto has to offer, including the Anoto Live Surface™ technology. In addition, We-Inspire will be showing its ultra-large interactive collaboration technology that can be scaled up till 500” in diagonal. Users will get to experience what fluid interaction is all about. With the ability to interact with any surface, paper, projection wall or touch display, the possibilities for uses of Anoto’s pen technology are endless.
