

Swedavia Signs General Agreement with Gunnebo

Swedavia has signed a general agreement with the Gunnebo Security Group for delivery and installation of solutions that automate and streamline the flow of passengers. The full scope of the agreement is worth a minimum of 30 MSEK.

Swedavia is a state-owned group that owns, operates and develops ten airports across Sweden, including Stockholm Arlanda and Gothenburg Landvetter. In building the airports of the future and in order to deal with anticipated growth in passenger volumes, Swedavia will invest in solutions that make it quicker and easier for passengers to identify themselves when going through security checks and boarding aircraft. This is also part of the Self Service initiative under way at Swedavia's airports to improve the customer experience.

"We are constantly working to improve the experience for the 35 million passengers who visit our airports every year. Consequently, we place strict demands on our suppliers. Gunnebo's experience of other similar projects around the world is an important factor in this collaboration," says Michael Persson Gripkow, Chief Commercial and Marketing Officer at Swedavia.

"Gunnebo today is a supplier of solutions that increase security and improve the flow of passengers for airports in many parts of the world," says Per Borgvall, President and CEO of Gunnebo. "We look forward to being a partner to Swedavia in the process of designing the airports of the future in Sweden."
