

PRESS RELEASE

Enea signs a service agreement worth 990 KUSD with an American aerospace/defense company

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 18, 2015. Enea (NASDAQ OMX Nordic: ENEA) Enea has signed an agreement for development services worth 990 KUSD over a period of 6 months. The customer, who is a global technology leader in the avionics industry has once again selected Enea as the supplier based on strong, proven capabilities in the aerospace/avionics industry.

Enea's North America Professional Services team, located in Arizona, has developed strong relationships with this customer. Enea will provide the customer with a team of uniquely skilled avionic system and software engineers to assist with the development of software design and requirements. This activity will be done in accordance with DO178B and will also include formal peer reviews and documentation.

"The Avionics industry is very important for our Global Services business, and I am pleased to see that we once again have been chosen as vendor for this customer in this industry." says Anders Lidbeck, President and CEO for Enea. "We are always aiming to deliver top quality projects for our customers and this agreement shows that Enea is a partner to count on also when delivering security-critical services to the Avionics industry."
