

GHP recruits a new Business Area Manager for Stockholm

Max van Eijk assumes the position of Business Area Manager for Stockholm on August 10, 2015. He has many years' experience of successfully working in health care from different perspectives.

Max has previously worked as Business Area Manager at Capio, and he was in charge of their specialist health care in Stockholm. He therefore has a good understanding of GHP's opportunities and challenges in Stockholm. He has also worked for a total of 10 years at McKinsey & Company and Boston Consulting Group, with great focus on health care, and he has led projects there within strategy development, quality management and sales. Max joins us from Health Navigator, where he has worked as a Business Area Manager.

"Max is a very strong addition to GHP's senior management. He is a good leader, with great strategic abilities, and his basic values match GHP's very well. We are convinced that Max is the right person to lead our largest business area and make the most of the exciting opportunities that exist in Stockholm," says Daniel Öhman, CEO of GHP.

In his role as Business Area Manager, Max will be responsible for GHP's development and operations in Stockholm as well as a member of GHP's senior management team. The role of Business Area Manager is not new, and Max is replacing a previous employee.

GHP is an internationally active health care provider that operates specialist clinics in a select number of diagnostic areas through the application of a business model that is unique in the health care industry, where leading doctors become partners and shareholders. Each clinic specialises in a particular patient group, and this leads to increased efficiency and higher quality. This is the cornerstone of GHP's business philosophy – "Quality through specialisation". GHP shares are traded on the Small Cap list of Nasdaq Stockholm under the ticker symbol "GHP".
