Short-term outlook

General economic outlook

Global growth for 2015 is projected at 3.1 percent, 0.3 percentage point lower than in 2014, and 0.2 percentage point below the forecasts in the July 2015 World Economic Outlook (WEO) Update. Prospects across the main countries and regions remain uneven. Relative to last year, the recovery in advanced economies is expected to pick up slightly, while activity in emerging market and developing economies is projected to slow for the fifth year in a row, primarily reflecting weaker prospects for some large emerging market economies and oil-exporting countries. (International Monetary Fund, September 28, 2015)

Short-term market outlook

Valmet estimates that the short-term market outlook for board and paper has decreased to a satisfactory level (previously good level).

Valmet reiterates the good short-term market outlook for pulp, the satisfactory short-term market outlook for services, automation, and tissue, and the weak short-term market outlook for energy.

President and CEO Pasi Laine: Profitability in the targeted range for the second consecutive quarter

We have been working hard to improve our profitability and to reach our EBITA margin target. In the third quarter of 2015, we reached this target – for the second consecutive quarter. During the last four quarters, we have been in the targeted range for three quarters.

The integration of the automation business has been a success. It has now been six months since the acquisition was completed, and I still get a lot of positive feedback from both customers and employees. By combining process know-how, services and automation, we can serve our customers even better than before. As a result of the acquisition, Valmet's stability and profitability have increased. The share of stable business, meaning Automation and Services, was about half of the net sales in the third quarter.

From a geographical point of view, Valmet's orders received developed especially well in China. In the third quarter, orders received increased also in North America and EMEA (Europe, Middle-East and Africa). A balanced geographical exposure increases stability of the overall business.

Going forward, Valmet continues to develop new advanced and competitive technologies and services. Good examples of the results of our research and development process are the OptiConcept M board and paper production machine, and the Advantage NTT tissue production machine. Both machines offer customers a cost-efficient, energy-efficient and flexible way to produce high-quality products, with significant raw material savings. The machines have been well received by the markets – in total, Valmet has so far sold ten OptiConcept M machines and five Advantage NTT tissue machines.

Continued focus on improving profitability

Valmet aims to improve product margin by focusing on improving sales and project management. By harmonizing processes and tools, localization of competencies, better selection of sales cases and developing project management, Valmet believes it can improve product margin.

In order to reduce quality costs and lead times Valmet is implementing Lean. Implementing Lean is expected to improve efficiency and reduce waste. A common quality development approach, together with different quality tools and processes help reduce quality costs and lead times. In order to affect quality costs and lead times, it is also important to highlight the importance of quality initiatives and accountability.

To improve profitability, Valmet also focuses on procurement savings. These can be achieved by increasing sourcing from cost-competitive countries, by increasing the use of sub-contracting and by consolidating the shipment and warehouse network. Valmet also aims to find savings by focusing on design-to-cost together with suppliers.

Valmet is constantly focusing on improving product competitiveness in order to increase gross profit and reduce customer investment costs. Valmet focuses on cost efficient design, modularity and standardization, and product-based improvement programs.

Following the acquisition of the automation business, Valmet believes it can increase profitability by providing customer benefits by combining process technology, automation and services. Valmet can use common sales lead activation and a harmonized project execution model. Valmet can also utilize low-cost automation engineering and manufacturing optimization and focus on product competitiveness development.

Activities and achievement in sustainability

Valmet's sustainability agenda focuses on five core areas with roadmaps for 2014–2016. The focus areas are supply chain, responsible operations (health, safety and environment), people, sustainable solutions and corporate citizenship.

In the third quarter of 2015 Valmet continued the implementation of its global Sustainable supply chain program. By the end of September 2015, the sustainability risk level of all Valmet's suppliers had been evaluated, almost 6,000 suppliers had been informed about Valmet's Sustainable Supply Chain policy, 24 supplier sustainability audits had been conducted in China, Mexico and India, and 95 percent of Valmet's global procurement professionals had received sustainability training.

Good progress in safety continued in the third quarter of 2015. Valmet's lost time incident frequency rate (LTIF) remained below the 2015 target level of 4, which was achieved in June, and was at the level of 3.5 at the end of September (12 months rolling; 5.5 at the end of December 2014).

In August 2015, Valmet conducted its employee engagement survey called OurVoice with a global response rate of 81 percent (68%). The survey results showed a good progress in global employee engagement at Valmet and serves as a basis for annual development actions. Valmet also relayed an updated Code of Conduct document supported by an e-learning for all employees to secure standards of responsible behavior across the company.

In September 2015, Valmet was included in the Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI) for the second consecutive year among the 317 most sustainable companies in the world. Valmet was listed both in the Dow Jones Sustainability World and Europe indices.

Valmet's local community programs continued in China where the company donated new water filters to the Keng Zhen primary school to secure availability of fresh water.

Lawsuits and claims

Several lawsuits, claims and disputes based on various grounds are pending against Valmet in various countries, including product liability lawsuits and claims as well as legal disputes related to Valmet's deliveries.

On February 20, Valmet issued a stock exchange release about Andritz Oy having filed a summons application with the Stockholm District Court against Valmet AB, a subsidiary of Valmet Corporation, regarding patent infringement. In the claim Andritz is asking that Valmet under a penalty ceases to utilize the patent allegedly infringing Andritz's patent and the Court to impose royalty and damages on Valmet AB. Valmet has denied the claims in its writ of response submitted to the Stockholm District Court. In June Andritz revised its claim, which subsequently changed their overall claim from EUR 52 million to EUR 54 million and interest for the alleged infringement. Consequently, Valmet filed a second response to the Stockholm District Court in September.

Valmet's management does not expect to the best of its present understanding that the outcome of these lawsuits, claims and disputes will have a material adverse effect on Valmet in view of the grounds presented for them, provisions made, insurance coverage in force and the extent of Valmet's total business activities. Valmet is also a plaintiff in several lawsuits.

Valmet has prepared a separate Corporate Governance Statement for 2014 which complies with the recommendations of the Finnish Corporate Governance Code for listed companies. It also covers other central areas of corporate governance. The statement has been published on Valmet's website, separately from the Board of Directors' Report, at www.valmet.com/governance.

Share-based incentive plans

Valmet's share ownership plans are part of the remuneration and retention program for Valmet's management. The aim of the plans is to align the objectives of shareholders and management to increase the value of the company, commit management to the company, and offer management a competitive reward plan based on long-term shareholding in Valmet.

Valmet has entered into an agreement with a third-party service provider concerning the administration of the share-based incentive programs for key personnel. At the end of the reporting period, the number of shares held within the administration plan was 473,617.

Long-term incentive plan 2012-2014

In December 2013, Metso's Board of Directors decided to continue the share-based incentive plan approved in December 2011. The target group of the plan is the senior management of Valmet. The plan approved in 2011 includes three performance periods, equivalent to the 2012, 2013, and 2014 calendar years. The Board of Directors is responsible for setting the performance criteria and targets used at the beginning of each performance period. 40 key employees in Valmet were covered by the plan for the 2014 performance period. Growth in Valmet's EBITA-% and growth in Services orders received were the 2014 performance criteria of the long-term incentive plan.

The potential reward from the 2014 performance period will be paid at the end of an approximately two-year vesting period in 2017, partly in company shares and partly in cash. The proportion paid in cash is intended to cover taxes and tax-related costs arising from the payment.

The potential rewards to be paid on the basis of the 2014 performance period will correspond to a maximum total of 706,423 Valmet shares. The reward of the Plan may not exceed 120 percent of the key employee's annual total base salary.

During the first quarter of 2015, Valmet paid 166,383 shares on the basis of the 2012 performance period to the participants of the Plan.

Long-term incentive plan 2015–2017

In December 2014, the Board of Directors approved a new share based incentive plan for Valmet's key employees. The plan has three discretionary periods, which are the calendar years 2015, 2016 and 2017. The Board of Directors shall decide on the performance criteria and participants in the beginning of each performance period. The Plan is directed to approximately 80 key people. The potential reward of the Plan from the discretionary period 2015 is based on EBITA-% improvement and Services' orders received growth (%).

The potential reward of the Plan from the discretionary period 2015 will be paid partly as Company shares and partly in cash in 2016. The shares paid as reward may not be transferred during the restriction period, which will end two years after the end of the discretionary period. The proportion to be paid in cash is intended to cover taxes and tax-related costs arising from the reward to the key employee.

The rewards to be paid on the basis of the Plan are in total an approximate maximum of 616,000 shares in Valmet Corporation and a cash payment needed for taxes and tax-related costs arising from the shares. The reward of the Plan may not exceed 120 percent of the key employee's annual total base salary.

The shares to be transferred as part of the possible reward will be obtained in public trading, ensuring that the incentive plan will not have a diluting effect on Valmet's share value.

More information about share-based incentive plans can be found in Valmet's Corporate Governance Statement which is available at www.valmet.com/governance.

The Annual General Meeting confirmed the number of Board members as seven and appointed Bo Risberg as a new member of the Board. Lone Fønss Schrøder, Friederike Helfer, Pekka Lundmark, Erkki Pehu-Lehtonen and Rogério Ziviani will continue as members of the Board. The term of office of the members of the Board of Directors expires at the end of the next Annual General Meeting.

The Annual General Meeting appointed PricewaterhouseCoopers Oy, authorized public accountants, as the company's auditor for a term expiring at the end of the next Annual General Meeting.

Valmet published stock exchange releases on March 27, 2015, concerning the resolutions of the Annual General Meeting and the composition of the Board of Directors. The stock exchange releases and a presentation of the Board's members can be viewed on Valmet's website at www.valmet.com/agm.

In compliance with the resolution of the Annual General Meeting on March 27, 2015, Valmet Corporation paid out dividends of EUR 37 million for 2014, corresponding to EUR 0.25 per share, on April 10, 2015.

Changes in the Board composition

On April 7, 2015, Pekka Lundmark announced his resignation from the Board of Directors of the company. The reason for the resignation is his appointment as the President and CEO of Fortum Corporation as of September 2015. Valmet announced the resignation as a stock exchange release on April 8, 2015.

The Board of Directors elected Erkki Pehu-Lehtonen to replace Pekka Lundmark in Valmet's Remuneration and HR Committee. Valmet announced the election as a stock exchange release on April 20, 2015.

Risks and business uncertainties

Valmet's operations are affected by various strategic, financial, operational, and hazard risks. Valmet takes measures to exploit emerging opportunities and to limit the adverse effects of potential threats. The assessment of risks related to sustainable development holds a key role in risk management. If such threats materialized, they could have material adverse effects on Valmet's business, financial situation, and operating result or on the value of shares and other securities.

The objective of Valmet's risk management is to ensure the implementation of an effective and successful strategy for achieving both long- and short-term goals. The task of Valmet's management is to regulate risk appetite.

In assessing risks, Valmet takes into consideration the probability of the risks and their estimated impact on net sales and financial results. Valmet's management estimates that the company's overall risk level is currently manageable in proportion to the scope of its operations and the practical measures available for managing these risks.

Financial uncertainty in the global economy, coupled with fluctuations in exchange rates and tightening financial market regulations, may have an adverse effect on the availability of financing from banks and capital markets, and could reduce the investment appetite of Valmet's customers. Valmet estimates that the high proportion of business derived from stable business (Services and Automation) and the geographical diversification will reduce the possible negative effects that market uncertainties may have.

If global economic growth weakens, it might have adverse effects on new projects under negotiation or on projects in the order backlog. Some projects may be postponed, suspended, or canceled. In the case of long-term delivery projects, initial customer down payments are typically 10–30 percent of the value of the project, and customers make progress payments as a project is implemented. This significantly decreases the risks and financing requirements related to Valmet's projects. Valmet continually assesses its customers' creditworthiness and their ability to meet their obligations. As a rule, Valmet does not finance customer projects. If economic growth slows significantly, the markets for Valmet's products may shrink, which may lead to, for example, tougher price competition. Changes in regulation and legislation can also critically affect especially the energy business.

Large fluctuations in energy prices can affect the global economy. These fluctuations can also affect Valmet and its customers, especially in the energy business.

Changes in labor costs and the prices of raw materials and components can affect Valmet's profitability. Wage inflation is continuing, but Valmet's goal is to offset this at least partly through increased productivity and strict price discipline. It is possible, however, that tough competition in some product categories will make it difficult to pass on cost increases to product prices. On the other hand, some of Valmet's customers are raw material producers, and their ability to operate and invest may be enhanced by strengthening commodity prices and hampered by declining commodity prices.

Through acquisitions Valmet may become exposed to risks associated with new markets and business environments. The actual acquisition process also includes risks. Other risks associated with acquisitions include, but are not limited to, integration of the acquired business, increased financial risk exposure, retention of key personnel and achieving the targets set for the acquired business.

Management of project business risks important

An important part of Valmet's business consists of project business. Pulp business projects in particular are large, thus project-specific risk management is crucial. Key risks related to projects are cost accounting, scheduling and materials management risks. Risk analysis shall, as a minimum, take place for all significant project quotations. The work concerning threat and opportunity assessment continues during the execution phase of the project. Risk management is based on careful planning and on continuous, systematic monitoring and drawing on past experiences. Project risks are managed by improving and continuously developing project management processes and the related tools.

There may be changes in the competitive situation of Valmet's individual businesses, such as the emergence of new, cost-effective players in the markets. Valmet can safeguard its market position by developing its products and services, and through good customer service and a local presence.

Availability of financing crucial

Securing the continuity of Valmet's operations requires that sufficient funding is available under all circumstances. Valmet estimates that its liquid cash assets and committed credit limits are sufficient to secure the company's immediate liquidity and to ensure the flexibility of financing. The average maturity for Valmet's non-current debt is 3.6 years. Loan facilities include customary covenants and Valmet is in clear compliance with the covenants at the balance sheet date.

Net working capital and capital expenditure levels have a key impact on the adequacy of our financing. Valmet estimates that the company is well-positioned to keep capital expenditure at the level of total depreciation.

Of the financial risks that affect Valmet's profit, currency exchange rate risks are among the most substantial. Exchange rate changes can affect Valmet's business, although the wide geographical scope of the company's operations reduces the impact of any individual currency. Economic insecurity typically increases exchange rate fluctuations. Valmet hedges its currency exposures linked to firm delivery and purchase agreements.

At the end of September 2015, Valmet had EUR 615 million (EUR 446 million) of goodwill on its statement of financial position. Valmet assesses the value of its goodwill for impairment annually or more frequently if facts and circumstances indicate that a risk of impairment exists. Valmet has not identified any indications of impairment during the reporting period. The principles used for impairment testing are presented in the Annual Report.

Events after the reporting period

There were no subsequent events after the review period that required recognition or disclosure.

Valmet reiterates its guidance for 2015

Valmet is reiterating its guidance presented on February 6, 2015 in which Valmet estimates that, including the acquisition of Process Automation Systems, net sales in 2015 will increase in comparison with 2014 (EUR 2,473 million) and EBITA before non-recurring items in 2015 will increase in comparison with 2014 (EUR 106 million).

Short-term outlook

General economic outlook

Global growth for 2015 is projected at 3.1 percent, 0.3 percentage point lower than in 2014, and 0.2 percentage point below the forecasts in the July 2015 World Economic Outlook (WEO) Update. Prospects across the main countries and regions remain uneven. Relative to last year, the recovery in advanced economies is expected to pick up slightly, while activity in emerging market and developing economies is projected to slow for the fifth year in a row, primarily reflecting weaker prospects for some large emerging market economies and oil-exporting countries. (International Monetary Fund, September 28, 2015)

Short-term market outlook

Valmet estimates that the short-term market outlook for board and paper has decreased to a satisfactory level (previously good level).

Valmet reiterates the good short-term market outlook for pulp, the satisfactory short-term market outlook for services, automation, and tissue, and the weak short-term market outlook for energy.

Acquisitions

Acquisition of Process Automation Systems

On April 1, 2015, the Group completed its acquisition of Process Automation Systems. The final purchase consideration was EUR 312 million in cash. Process Automation Systems supplies process automation and information management systems and related applications and services to the pulp, paper, energy and other process industries. Control in the acquiree was obtained through series of share deals financed through long-term borrowings. The provisional goodwill of EUR 160 million arising from the acquisition is attributable to the assembled workforce and synergies expected to arise subsequent to the acquisition. Majority of the goodwill recognized is not expected to be deductible for income tax purposes.

The following table summarizes the fair values of assets acquired and liabilities assumed at the date of acquisition. The amounts presented are provisional in nature while work to complete accounting for the acquisition still continues. The below amounts include EUR 2 million of net receivables from Valmet that were settled at closing.

Fair value estimation

For those financial assets and liabilities which have been recognized at fair value in the statement of financial position, the following measurement hierarchy and valuation methods have been applied:

- Level 1 Quoted unadjusted prices at the balance sheet date in active markets. The market prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, market information service system, pricing service or regulatory agency. The quoted market price used for financial assets is the current bid price. Level 1 financial instruments include debt and equity investments classified as financial instruments available-for-sale.

- Level 2 The fair value of financial instruments in Level 2 is determined using valuation techniques. These techniques utilize observable market data readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, market information service system, pricing service or regulatory agency. Level 2 financial instruments include over-the-counter derivatives classified as financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit and loss or qualified for hedge accounting.

Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

Level 3 A financial instrument is categorized into Level 3 if the calculation of the fair value cannot be based on observable market data.

The tables below present Valmet's financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value. There have been no transfers between fair value levels during 2015.
