- TeliaSonera selected Aspiro as the main supplier of games to its mobile portals; the games store in Sweden was launched in September.
- In August, Aspiro subsidiary Rubberduck signed a master agreement with Thumbplay, the leading online reseller of mobile entertainment in the US. This agreement is for the distribution of video content in the US and is consistent with Aspiro's mobile TV strategy and Rubberduck's geographical expansion.
- Aspiro acquired 25.5% of the shares of Norwegian enterprise Mobile Entry in September. This acquisition is a step in Aspiro's strategy for business solutions.
- The Board of Directors considers that the company will maintain its secure market position in its current business. However, as previously reported, profitability in 2007 will be lower than in the previous year. Fourth-quarter earnings are expected to be somewhat lower than the third quarter.
