Systemair receives large order to University Hospital in Turkey

Systemair (NASDAQ OMX Stockholm: SYSR) has received an order of 550 air handling units to the University Hospital in Ankara, Turkey. The order value is estimated to be about EUR 5.2 million.

Systemair has been selected as supplier of air handling units to "Bilkent Integrated Healthcare Campus" which is the largest university hospital in Europe and one of the largest hospitals in the world. The hospital will include more than 100 operating theatres and is expected to treat approximately 35,000 patients per day and will have around 8,000 employees. The project also includes a new office building for the Turkish Ministry of health.

Systemair delivers more than 550 air handling units of which about 250 are hygiene certified. Deliveries will take place during April to October 2016.

"This order strengthens our position as the leading air handling unit supplier in Turkey and confirms our expertise within hospital ventilation", says Systemair's President and CEO Roland Kasper.
