"The results in the first half of 2015/16 were encouraging, with strong growth in Food Cultures & Enzymes and Natural Colors and strong improvements in the profitability for both divisions. The modest growth in Health & Nutrition was anticipated and we expect to see higher growth for the division in the second half of the year," says CEO Cees de Jong.

"During the second quarter we closed the acquisition of NPC, and we commenced the integration of the two companies to ensure we realize the strong potential of the combined business in the coming years.

"To support the Nature's No. 1 strategy and to secure future growth in our microbial businesses we have changed our organization by creating a shared backbone for Food Cultures & Enzymes (previously the Cultures & Enzymes Division) and Health & Nutrition covering research & development, production incl. logistics, and IT.

"Based on the results for the first half of the year we raise our expectations for organic revenue growth to 10-12% (previously 9-11%). The EBIT margin before special items is still expected to be above the 27.1% achieved in 2014/15."

YTD 2015/16 RESULTS

REVENUE GROWTH BY DIVISION - YTD

MARKET DEVELOPMENT

During the first half of 2015/16, the end markets for fermented milk grew in line with previous years. The global market for cheese grew slightly more than in previous years, driven by high production volumes in the US and EU. During Q2, growth in US cheese production was in line with previous years.

The markets for probiotic dietary supplements continued to grow, primarily due to higher penetration levels in the US. The market for microbial-based solutions for animal health was negatively impacted by factors including lower prices for milk and swine meat, while the Brazilian market for microbial plant protection continued to be challenging.

Conversion to natural colors continued in the European market as well as in Latin America and APAC. In the US, the conversion rate continued to increase.

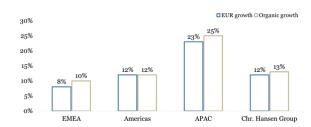

REVENUE

Revenue increased by 12% to EUR 443 million, corresponding to organic growth of 13%. A positive impact on revenue from the appreciation of the USD was more than offset by depreciating currencies in some countries in Eastern Europe, Latin America and Asia.

The organic growth of 13% comprised 9% from volume/mix effects and 4% from price increases in local currencies. The price increases were mainly achieved by the use of EUR-based pricing to protect EBIT against depreciating currencies.

In Q2, revenue increased by 10%, corresponding to organic growth of 12%. A positive impact on revenue from the appreciation of the USD was more than offset by depreciating currencies in some countries in Eastern Europe, Latin America and Asia. The organic growth of 12% comprised 8% from volume/mix effects and 4% from price increases in local currencies.

REVENUE BY REGION EMEA (Europe, Middle East and Africa)

Revenue increased by 8%, with organic growth of 10%. The organic growth was driven by strong growth in natural colors, fermented milk, cheese and animal health, while revenue from probiotic cultures and human health was at the same level as in the first half of 2014/15.

In Q2, revenue increased by 10%, with organic growth of 12%. Natural colors, fermented milk, cheese, human, and animal health delivered strong growth, while revenue from probiotic cultures for fermented milk was at the same level as in the first half of 2014/15.

Americas (North and Latin America)

Revenue increased by 12%, with organic growth of 12%. Human health, natural colors, cheese, enzymes and meat cultures all delivered strong growth, while revenue from animal health and probiotics for fermented milk was below the first half of 2014/15. Animal health was negatively impacted by a major customer's decision to insource the production of silage inoculants from Q3 2014/15.

In Q2, revenue increased by 5%, with organic growth of 8%. The organic growth was driven by strong growth across all segments except for probiotic cultures for fermented milk and animal health.

www.chr-hansen.com PAGE 3/23

APAC (Asia-Pacific)

Revenue increased by 23%, with organic growth of 25%. The organic growth was driven primarily by strong growth in fermented milk including probiotics, natural colors and cheese. Organic growth was especially strong in China for fermented milk and natural colors.

In Q2, revenue increased by 17%, with organic growth of 20% driven by fermented milk including probiotics, natural colors, cheese and enzymes, while revenue from human health was lower than last year. Organic growth in China was strong, although slowing during the period.

GROSS PROFIT

Gross profit was EUR 233 million, up 15% on the first half of 2014/15. The gross margin increased by 1.7 percentage points to 52.5%. Efficiencies in culture and enzyme production, including lower depreciation related to production equipment, were partly offset by higher scrapping levels and US duty costs for human health products.

In Q2, gross profit was EUR 121 million, up 15% on 2014/15. The gross margin increased by 2.3 percentage points to 52.7%. Operational efficiencies in culture and enzyme production were partly offset by US duty costs for human health products.

OPERATING EXPENSES (% of revenue)

Operating expenses totaled EUR 115 million (25.9%), compared to EUR 106 million (26.6%) in the first half of 2014/15.

Research & development (R&D) expenses including amortization and depreciation amounted to EUR 29 million (6.5%), compared to EUR 25 million (6.4%) in the first half of 2014/15.

The net impact from capitalization of development costs was EUR 4 million (1.0%), compared to EUR 1 million (0.3%) in the first half of 2014/15. The increase was due to the acquisition of a bacterial strain collection from the Board of Dairy Innovation Australia Ltd (DIAL).

Total R&D expenditures incurred increased by 25% to EUR 33 million (7.5%), compared to EUR 27 million (6.7%) in the first half of 2014/15. The increase was due to the acquisition of DIAL and higher activity level in Health & Nutrition.

Sales & marketing expenses amounted to EUR 53 million (11.9%), compared to EUR 51 million (12.8%) in the first half of 2014/15. Expenses relative to revenue were reduced, mainly through scale efficiencies.

Administrative expenses amounted to EUR 34 million (7.7%), compared to EUR 30 million (7.4%) in the first half of 2014/15. The increase was primarily due to non-recurring costs related to the strategy update process and a management change.

Net other operating income/expenses was an income of EUR 1 million, compared to nil in the first half of 2014/15.

In Q2, operating expenses were EUR 57 million (24.8%), compared to EUR 53 million (25.3%) in 2014/15. Expenses relative to revenue were reduced, mainly through scale efficiencies.

SPECIAL ITEMS

Special items at EUR 7 million in Q2 2015/16 concerned an accrual for US import duty costs covering reclassification of certain human health products related to previous years and costs related to the acquisition and integration of Nutrition Physiology Company (NPC).

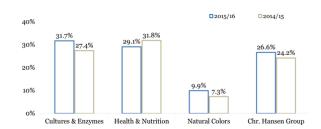

OPERATING PROFIT (EBIT)

EBIT before special items amounted to EUR 118 million, compared to EUR 96 million in the first half of 2014/15, an increase of 23%. The increase in EBIT was mainly due to higher sales volumes, operational efficiencies and the appreciation of the USD.

The EBIT margin before special items was 26.6%, up from 24.2% in the first half of 2014/15, primarily due to production and scale efficiencies. The EBIT margin after special items was 25.1%.

In Q2, EBIT before special items amounted to EUR 64 million, compared to EUR 53 million in 2014/15. The EBIT margin before special items was 27.9%, compared to 25.2% in 2014/15, while the EBIT margin after special items was 24.9%.

Net financial expenses amounted to EUR 9 million, compared to EUR 8 million in the first half of 2014/15. The net interest cost was EUR 5 million, compared to EUR 6 million in 2014/15. The decrease was primarily due to lower interest rates.

The net impact from exchange rate adjustments was a negative EUR 4 million, compared to a negative EUR 2 million in the first half of 2014/15. The negative impact related mainly to unrealized losses from the depreciation of the Argentinian peso during Q2 2015/16.

Income taxes were EUR 25 million, equivalent to an effective tax rate of 25%, compared to 26% in the first half of 2014/15, mainly due to a reduction in the corporate tax rate in Denmark from 23.5% to 22.0%.

ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGE

To support the Nature's No. 1 strategy and to secure future growth in the microbial businesses the organization has been changed by creating a shared backbone for Food Cultures & Enzymes (previously the Cultures & Enzymes Division) and Health & Nutrition.

This shared backbone will be headed by COO and Deputy CEO, Knud Vindfeldt and cover research & development, production incl. logistics, and IT.

Christoffer Lorenzen, previously head of Commercial Development CED, will assume responsibility for Food Cultures & Enzymes.

Jacob Vishof Paulsen will in addition to his existing role as head of the EMEA region also assume responsibility for the North American Food Cultures & Enzymes sales organization.

Sten Estrup will in addition to his existing role as head of the APAC region also assume responsibility for the Latin American Food Cultures & Enzymes sales organization, as well as sales of animal health in both regions.

Christian Barker will continue as head of Health & Nutrition.

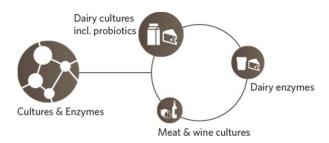

Natural Colors, HR, Compliance and Finance are unaffected by the organizational change, and the Executive Board will continue to consist of CEO Cees de Jong, COO Knud Vindfeldt and CFO Søren Westh Lonning.

REVENUE

Revenue increased by 11% to EUR 268 million, corresponding to organic growth of 13%. The organic growth comprised 9% from volume/mix and 4% from price increases in local currencies. The price increases were mainly achieved by the use of EUR-based pricing to protect EBIT against depreciating currencies.

The organic growth was primarily due to strong growth in cultures for fermented milk, cheese and meat. Probiotic cultures for fermented milk and enzymes showed good growth.

In Q2, organic growth was 13%. The organic growth comprised 9% from volume/mix and 4% from price increases in local currencies. Fermented milk, cheese and meat cultures delivered strong growth, while enzymes showed solid growth. Revenue from probiotics was in line with the first half of 2014/15.

EBIT

EBIT amounted to EUR 85 million, compared to EUR 66 million in the first half of 2014/15.

The EBIT margin was 31.7%, up 4.3 percentage points on the first half of 2014/15. The increase was due to operational efficiencies, including lower depreciation related to production facilities, the appreciation of the USD, and the first half of 2014/15 being negatively impacted by startup costs related to the new fermentation capacity for cultures.

In Q2, the EBIT margin increased by 4.7 percentage points compared to 2014/15, primarily due to operational efficiencies and Q2 2014/15 being negatively impacted by non-recurring costs related to the changed go-to-market strategy in China.

ROIC EXCLUDING GOODWILL

The return on invested capital excluding goodwill was 40.1%, compared to 32.1% in the first half of 2014/15.

REVENUE

Revenue increased by 6% to EUR 81 million, corresponding to organic growth of 2%, all due to volume/mix effects. Human health realized strong growth, while revenue from animal health was below the first half of 2014/15. Revenue was positively impacted by the appreciation of the USD.

Organic growth in human health products was primarily driven by dietary supplements in the Americas region.

Revenue from animal health was below the first half of 2014/15 due to a major customer's decision to insource the production of silage inoculants from Q3 2014/15 and challenging market conditions.

In Q2, organic growth was 0%. Strong growth in human health was offset by declining revenue in animal health primarily due to the insourcing of silage inoculants by a major customer.

US CUSTOMS DUTY COSTS

During Q2, Chr. Hansen received an unfavorable ruling from the US customs authorities regarding tariff classification of certain products in human health. Consequently, EUR 5 million has been accrued to cover unpaid duty, EUR 4 million of which relates to previous years. The amount relating to previous years has been classified under special items. Chr. Hansen is working with the authorities to ensure correct classification is used for its products when imported into the US.

FRIT

EBIT amounted to EUR 24 million, down 3% on the first half of 2014/15. The EBIT margin was 29.1%, down 2.7 percentage points on 2014/15. The decrease was mainly due to higher research & development activity, US duty costs, and higher scrapping levels in human health, only partly offset by a positive impact from appreciation of the USD.

In Q2, the EBIT margin was 32.5%, compared to 35.9% in 2014/15. The decrease was mainly due to US customs duty costs. Scrapping levels in human health improved compared to Q1 2015/16, but were still above last year.

ROIC EXCLUDING GOODWILL

The return on invested capital excluding goodwill was 28.1%, compared to 37.6% in the first half of 2014/15. Invested capital excluding goodwill increased by EUR 61 million, or 45%, to EUR 198 million, due to the acquisition of NPC.

NPC INTEGRATION

The acquisition of NPC was closed in February 2016, and integration of the company with Chr. Hansen's animal health organization is progressing as planned.

REVENUE

Revenue increased by 18% to EUR 94 million, corresponding to organic growth of 22%.

The organic growth comprised approximately 16% from volume/mix effects and 6% from price increases in local currencies. The price increases were mainly reflecting increased raw material prices and the use of EUR-based pricing to protect EBIT against depreciating currencies.

The organic growth was primarily due to strong growth in the dairy & fruit preparations, confectionery & ice cream and prepared food categories, while organic growth in the beverage category was modest.

All regions showed strong growth. The FruitMax® range of coloring foodstuffs delivered strong growth in the EMEA region. Growth in the Americas was primarily due to strong growth in Latin America from market share gains and new customer product launches, while conversion to natural colors in the US market also increased.

The organic growth in APAC was primarily due to strong growth in China compared to a soft first half of 2014/15.

In Q2, organic growth was 21%. The organic growth comprised approximately 13% from volume/mix effects and 8% from price increases in local currencies. The organic growth was supported by strong growth across most food categories.

EBIT

EBIT amounted to EUR 9 million, compared to EUR 6 million in the first half of 2014/15. The EBIT margin was 9.9%, up 2.6 percentage points on 2014/15.

A positive impact from increased volumes and ongoing optimization initiatives was partly offset by the appreciation of the USD compared to the first half of 2014/15.

In Q2, the EBIT margin increased by 4.6 percentage points compared to 2014/15, despite a continued negative impact from the USD exchange rate. The increase was partly due to a favorable change in inventories.

ROIC

The return on invested capital was 19.4%, compared to 13.3% in the first half of 2014/15. Invested capital increased by EUR 11 million, or 12%, to EUR 107 million.

OUTLOOK 2015/16

ORGANIC GROWTH

Based on the results for the first half of the year the expectations for organic revenue growth have been increased to 10-12% compared to 9-11% in the announcement on 14 January 2016 (8-10% in the announcement on 21 October 2015).

Food Cultures & Enzymes is expected to deliver organic growth above long-term ambitions for the division (7-8%).

Health & Nutrition is expected to deliver organic growth below last year (13%). While the division has been negatively impacted in the first half of the year, by the decision of a major customer to insource silage inoculant production from Q3 2014/15, higher growth is expected in the second half as there will be no further impact from the customer's decision to insource production.

Natural Colors is expected to deliver organic growth above last year (9%). Organic growth is expected to be positively impacted by a change in sales prices as a result of rising raw material prices.

RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT

Research & development expenditures incurred as a percentage of revenue are now expected to be around 7% compared to 6.5-7.0% in the announcements of 14 January 2016 and 21 October 2015, respectively.

EBIT MARGIN BEFORE SPECIAL ITEMS

The EBIT margin before special items is expected to be above last year (27.1%).

The improvement is driven by scalability in Food Cultures & Enzymes and a general improvement in Natural Colors.

The EBIT margin in Health & Nutrition is expected to be below 2014/15 (33.3%), primarily due to increased investments in long-term growth opportunities and increased customs duty costs.

FREE CASH FLOW

Free cash flow before acquisitions, divestments and special items is expected to be above last year (EUR 151 million), primarily due to an improvement in operating profit as a result of sales growth and a stronger EBIT margin.

ACQUISITION OF NPC

The 2015/16 outlook for organic growth, EBIT margin before special items and free cash flow before acquisitions, divestments and special items is not impacted by the acquisition. The acquisition is funded through own cash holdings and current credit facilities. Consequently the Board of Directors does not expect to execute share buyback programs or pay out interim dividends during 2015/16.

Net interest-bearing debt is expected to be around 1.8x EBITDA by the end of the financial year 2015/16 when including the impact from the acquisition.

SPECIAL ITEMS

Approx. EUR 6 million in non-recurring costs related to the acquisition of NPC will be recognized as special items in 2015/16. The acquisition is expected to be EPS-accretive by 2016/17.

Based on the unfavorable tariff classification decision from the US duty authorities, a EUR 4 million accrual related to previous years has been recognized as special items in Q2 2015/16. Chr. Hansen has actively taken measures to protect the company against further costs related to previous years and is working with the authorities to conclude on any potential outstanding exposure.

EXCHANGE RATE SENSITIVITY

Chr. Hansen is a global company serving more than 140 countries through subsidiaries in 30 countries. The greatest exchange rate exposure relates to USD, which accounts for around 25% of revenue. Other key currencies are RMB, BRL, RUB, AUD, PLN, MXN, ARS and GBP.

The organic revenue growth rate is sensitive to changes in currencies where Chr, Hansen enforces EUR-based pricing to protect EBIT against depreciating currencies.

The EBIT margin is sensitive to changes in exchange rates and to the ability to increase sales prices to reflect changes in raw material prices for natural colors.

Due to significant production in the US, the exchange rate impact on EBIT is significantly lower than that on revenue.

The use of currency hedging of balance sheet exposures and future cash flows is described in note 4.3 in the Annual Report for 2014/15.
