Formpipe receives Life Science order worth SEK 3.6 million

Formpipe receives an order from Bluefish Pharmaceuticals regarding a cloud-based Enterprise Compliant Platform, for managing their Quality Management processes. The total order value amounts to SEK 3.6 million over five years.

"We are very happy to announce another new customer in the Life Science sector on the X-docs platform. We can see a gradual increase in the demand for cloud services. This is positive for us as supplier, the revenues usually are 100 percent recurring and since we can offer multiple delivery models we can fully match the needs of companies of varying size and geographic spread", says Christian Sundin, CEO of Formpipe.

The product suite (X-docs™, X-train™ and X-forms™) utilises much of the basic functionality offered by SharePoint particularly around the basic data model, versioning, access control and management of the audit trail. On top of this functionality there is a set of configurable features to provide a comprehensive platform to enable Life Science companies to easily meet the compliance standards required by the regulatory agencies in the sector.
