Michael Beckett, Chairman of the Board of Directors commented, “I am pleased that all proposed resolutions have been passed and thank all our shareholders for their continuing support. I would like to pay particular tribute to Neil Woodyer as he steps down as CEO. It was Neil’s vision that created Endeavour, and under his leadership the business has grown from a single operating mine to become a leading West African gold producer with 5 mines in operation and 2 advanced development projects. He created a company that has delivered significant value for shareholders and he leaves it well placed to continue its growth trajectory. On behalf of the company and its investors, we thank him for his considerable achievements and wish him every success for the future.”

Sebastien’s experience and expertise in the mining industry ensures that Endeavour is in good hands as we continue to pursue our growth strategy. In addition, over the coming months we plan to review and improve our corporate governance to achieve industry best practice,”* added Mr. Beckett.

Sébastien de Montessus, CEO of Endeavour, said: “Neil should be rightly proud of his achievements. He led the growth of a company that today contains a portfolio of low cost assets with exceptional prospects for future growth, including Hounde, Ity and Karma, and that is backed and supported by a strong balance sheet and a quality team with a first class track record of project construction and operation. I am very excited to lead Endeavour into the next phase of its growth and to generate value for the company’s shareholders and stakeholders.”

About Endeavour Mining Corporation

Endeavour Mining is a TSX-listed intermediate gold producer, focused on developing a portfolio of high quality mines in the prolific West-African region, where it has established a solid operational and construction track record.

Endeavour is ideally positioned as the major pure West-African multi-operation gold mining company, operating 5 mines in Côte d'Ivoire (Agbaou and Ity), Burkina Faso (Karma), Mali (Tabakoto), and Ghana (Nzema). In 2016, it expects to produce between 535koz and 560koz at an AISC of US$870 to US$920/oz, excluding Karma which is in the commissioning stage. Endeavour is currently building its Houndé project in Burkina Faso, which is expected to commence production in Q4-2017 and to become its flagship low-cost mine with an average annual production of 190koz at an AISC of US$709/oz over a 10-year mine life based on reserves. The development of the Houndé project is expected to lift Endeavour's group production +900kozpa and decrease its average AISC to circa $800/oz by 2018, while exploration aims to extend all mine lives to +10 years.
