Exchange Notice / index notice

Changes in the selection criterias for the MidCap+ and the SmallCap+ segments

The changes in the selection criterias for the MidCap+ and the SmallCap+ segments will become effective for the selection of the coming MidCap+ and SmallCap+ portfolios starting on 2 July 2007.

The current requirements for the average daily turnover during the reference period will be changed as stated below:

MidCap+

To become eligible for the inclusion in the MidCap+ segment, the average daily turnover during the reference period shall amount to no less than DKK 750,000.

The requirement for the companies which are already MidCap+ constituents is an average daily turnover during the reference period of no less than DKK 500,000.

SmallCap+

To become eligible for the inclusion in SmallCap+ the average daily turnover during the reference period shall amount to no less than DKK 150,000.

The requirement for the companies which are already SmallCap+ constituents is an average daily turnover during the reference period of no less than DKK 100,000.

Changes in the calculation of the MidCap+ and the SmallCap+ indexes

As of 2 July 2007 the changes in the calculation of MidCap+ and SmallCap+ will become effective.

The calculation of the MidCap+ and SmallCap+ indexes will be based on the full number of outstanding shares in each company. Thus, free float adjusted number of outstanding shares is no longer applied in the calculation of the indexes.

General information on the MidCap+ and the SmallCap+ segments

The purpose of the plus segments is to boost liquidity in the shares of small and medium-sized companies. The plus segments will bring focus to the companies with good liquidity in their shares, which provide detailed information to the market and by doing so create investor goodwill. The creation of the plus segments has inspired many small and medium-sized companies to make an extra effort to support the life of their shares on the exchange, and thereby to get an entry to either the MidCap+ segment or SmallCap+ segment.
