

IT – INET Nordic – Additional Trading Hours from 8:15 AM CET for Warrants and Certificates

Due to issuer requests, Nasdaq Nordic is planning to offer additional morning trading hours for Warrants and Certificates on First North Sweden, First North Finland and First North Denmark. As additional trading hours will be optional from issuer perspective, new additional market segments with new trading schedules will be created. The new market segments with extended trading schedules will be available in INET NTF as of December 7, 2018 and are planned for production launch as of January 28, 2019.

The current market segments for Warrants and Certificates will continue to have the current trading schedules applied to them. A subset of the order books on those market segments will be migrated to the new segments. A subset of new listings will be listed at the new segments going forward. Adoption of the new market segments is optional for trading members.

The Open time and start of Pre-Open will not be impacted by this change. Instead, the duration of Pre-Open will be reduced so that Continuous Trading can start at 8:15 AM CET.

Background

To cater for retail investors' needs, Continuous Trading has been requested to start earlier than per the current trading schedules in retail focused market segments for Warrants and Certificates. In order to minimise the impact of the change on trading participants, the start time of Pre-Open is maintained unchanged at 08:00 AM CET. This means that Pre-Open in the new market segments will be shorter than today and last 15 minutes.

Existing market segments for warrants and certificates will be kept as only a subset of order books are expected to migrate to the new extended trading schedule market segments. A detailed list of order books to be migrated will be communicated via Exchange Notices.
