

Picture: Oticon

CONNECTING – WIRELESSLY – WITH YOUR TEAM

Get a front row seat when England plays at the World Cup!

Tuning in to colour commentary is often out of bounds for people with hearing loss who struggle to hear TV at a normal volume. Just in time for the World Cup, the new ConnectLine system from Oticon ensures that people with hearing instruments can enjoy the games in excellent sound quality – and cheer on their favorite team at the right moments! ConnectLine users benefit from high quality audio streaming - from TV directly and wirelessly into their hearing instruments – listening at their own preferred volume and without the delay experienced with off-the-shelf Bluetooth transmitters.

Read more about Oticon's advanced hearing solutions and find a hearing care professional near you on www.oticon.com

